WHAT'S WEGOW?

Wegow is a discovery gig platform for true live music lovers that notifies users with the latest gigs of their favorite artists, acts as a personalized music agenda, brings people with similar music tastes together and offers all the ticket options available of a music event.

With Wegow users can:

- Choose their favorite genres and artists or sync their accounts with Spotify or Facebook and receive notifications about gigs of their favorite artists as well as customized recommendations.
- Have a personalized music agenda wherever they go which enables the search of events by genre, location, venue or date.
- Add friends, chat and share information about gigs and festivals they're interested in and get everyone on board.
- Compare all the ticket options at a glance and choose the one that suits them best.

The integrated chats enable the communication between users to organize the best music plans and enjoy a live music experience in a completely new way!

Wegow, where music goes live!

HOW WAS THE IDEA BORN?

The idea was born from a personal experience of the founders: José María Ozamiz and Gonzalo García-Miñaur enjoyed going to many gigs and fests, but in occasions had to miss some for not knowing with who to go. The following days they would see on social media friends that did go who they could have easily joined. That is why they thought of creating a social network for live music lovers like them to connect, share their passion and organize musical plans (f.e. sharing transportation or accommodation options). Wegow's community is what defines and differentiates the Spanish startup today.

Eventually, the app evolved to offer a complete experience to users around a music event. Users have everything they need in one place: recommendations based on their music tastes, a personalized music agenda, the possibility to share their passion with others and a ticketing platform.

WEGOW'S MILESTONES

Wegow is a Spanish startup, based in Bilbao and Madrid, that was founded in June 2013 by José María Ozamiz and Gonzalo García-Miñaur.

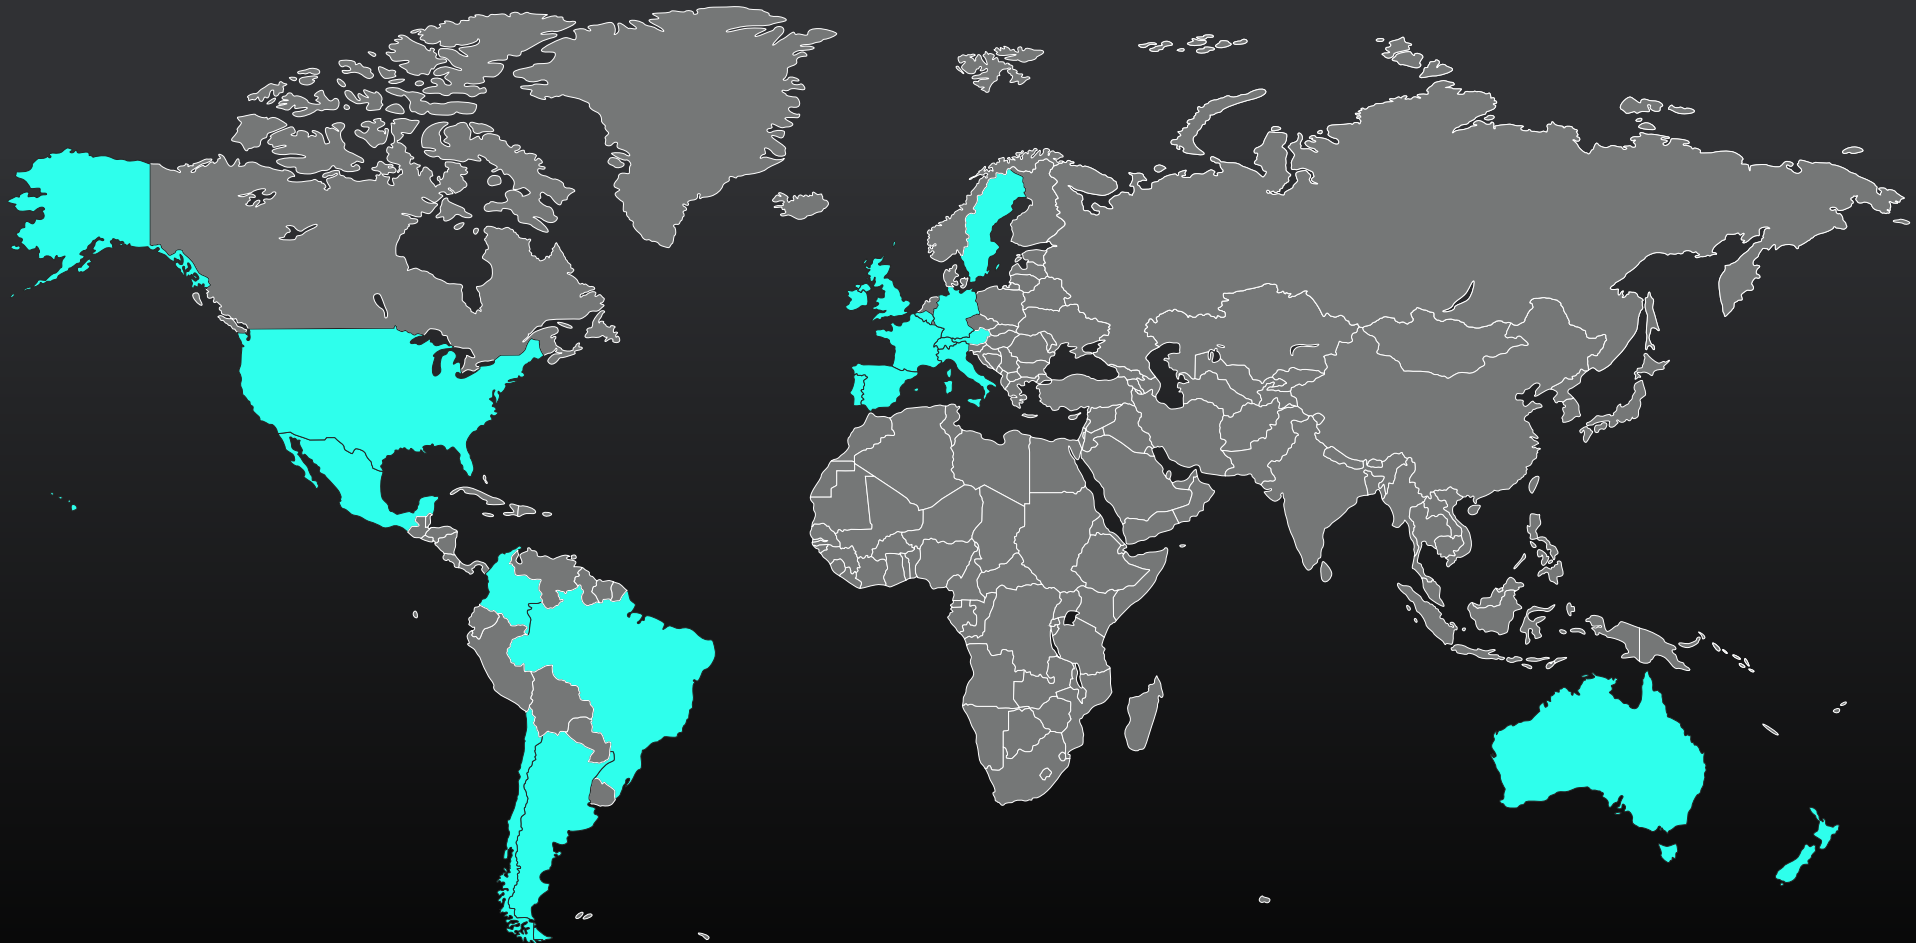

Since its launch, Wegow has experienced a constant growth, both in users and turnover, and after becoming the benchmark app for live music enthusiasts in Spain, Wegow was ready to expand to new territories.

In December 2017, Wegow acquires 5gig.com - called Nvivo in Spain -, a network of localized sites offering live music agenda information. In April 2017, Wegow and Nvivo merge in Spain. At the end of October, the platform merges with 5gig.com and starts operating in 19 countries.

CORPORATE IDENTITY

The registered brand Wegow has a graphic representation that represents the spirit of the company. This includes an image, the typographical identity and a corporate colour palette; with the correspondent variations.

The corporate image reflects the energy and the adrenaline that live music lovers feel at gigs and fests. The corporate identity is the result of the combination of an electrocardiogram with sound waves and the "W" correspondent to the initial of the Brand.

THE WEGOW TEAM

Our team is the great motor of the company. More than 25 professionals specialized in tech development, social media and ticketing who also possess knowledge about different disciplines of music.
